Limited to just 75 examples worldwide, the 2009 Mercedes-Benz SLR McLaren Stirling Moss is an ultra-rare edition of the SLR series paying tribute to the 300 SLR's dominance in the 1955 Mille Miglia. Boasting the 722 Edition's underpinnings, the car showcases distinctive carbon fiber bodywork penned under the direction of Korean designer Yoon Il-hun, lacking a roof and windscreen for an unadulterated driving experience. The handcrafted and supercharged 5.4-liter SLR AMG V8 delivers uncompromising performance, propelling the car from 0 to 60 MPH in approximately three seconds and achieving a top speed of 217 MPH. This example is finished in the special-order shade of Antimony Grey Crystal over exclusive Black leather upholstery.
